Featuring Keynote Speaker Reed Martin, JD

Reed Martin is an attorney who has concentrated on special education rights for over 35 years. He is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Law where he was an editor of the Texas Law Review and a director of the Moot Court Board. He was a legislative assistant to the U.S. Senator who chaired the education subcommittee as the Congress began developing special education laws. He practiced in Texas for 22 years, working with over 4,500 families before moving to West Virginia. Mr. Martin has also worked with attorneys and parents in all 50 states on special education cases. He is a parent of a student who required special services through IDEA (Individuals with Disabilities Education Act) and Section 504.

He has testified several times at the request of Congress, several state legislatures and the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights. Mr. Martin has litigated under Section 504 and the ADA as well as the IDEA. He has also successfully pursued Section 504 complaints through the Office for Civil Rights in several regions. He has had cases in several Circuit Courts of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court on issues of attorneys' fees, the IEP, least restrictive environment, extended school year, related services, school health services, parental reimbursement, and private school placement. He frequently files amicus curiae (friend of the court) briefs at the Circuit Court and Supreme Court level for disability organizations.

Mr. Martin has produced several books, videos and audios on special education law and has conducted over 600 workshops in all 50 states. Mr. Martin is currently developing new publications and conducting workshops around the country to teach parents and attorneys how to use Federal laws to help children with disabilities.

Mr. Martin will be joined by speakers representing:

- Social Security, Disability Determination Bureau
- Indiana Department of Education, Office of Student Services

- Indiana University School of Law – Indianapolis, William S. and Christine S. Hall Center for Law and Health
- Riley Child Development Center, Riley Hospital for Children, Indiana University School of Medicine
