

The PIHRL is accredited with Special Consultative Status to the United Nations Economic and Social Council.

Summer 2012 International Human Rights Law Internships are available for JD students.

Application deadlines for summer 2012 internships will be set once it becomes clear how much funding the Law School will provide for summer 2012 internship scholarships. It is hoped that information will be available later in the fall 2011 semester.

Submit your completed application (1 original + 3 photocopies) to:

Mrs. Michelle Davis, Law School, Room Inlow Hall 211-A Email: davismf@iupui.edu

You may get a hard copy of the application at the Human Rights Center, room 235-A, next to the law library's Reading Room. Applications are also available at the second floor of the Law School, at the rack in front of the PIHRL bulletin board, near the classrooms.

You may also download the application from the PIHRL homepage:
www.indylaw.indiana.edu/humanrights

*Applicants are welcome to visit the Human Rights Center (Room 235-A).
You can inquire from Mr. Boyet Caparas, Program Manager, about the internship.
At the Center, you may read time logs, assignments, and debriefing memoranda by former interns.*

*You may contact and talk with current and former interns about their internship experience.
Feel free to email Mrs. Davis and/or Mr. Caparas (pcaparas@iupui.edu) if you want to contact a specific former intern.*

Please feel free to disseminate this information to your fellow students.

Thank you.
